The 33 student attendees of the 1st annual "Count on Me" Young Men's Conference take a group picture with their mentors who volunteered their time & talent to make the event an overwhelming success.

Past Events

Our 1st annual "Count on Me" Young Men's Conference has concluded and it went wonderfully! 33 students attended: 9 from Kansas City and 24 from St Louis. Students heard presentations from educators, college students, higher ed administration, and community members on college preparation and making successful life choices.

Students also had access to 13 Missouri colleges during the mini college fair. During the closing ceremony, they received certificates of participation and a black tie with instructions on how to tie a tie. Student responses were excellent and included words such as "perfect" and "amazing." Parents, presenters, and others who attended also all had positive responses to the event. We look forward to greater success next year!

Summer Highlight

The Leadership Development Institute (LDI) provides an opportunity for the presidential cycle from each affiliate, like MOACAC, to strengthen their leadership skills. The president, president-elect and past president attend sessions targeted to their respective position's affiliate responsibilities. In addition, they are updated on the topics of interest, accomplishments and issues that engage NACAC and its membership. Attendees also have the opportunity to meet and interact with the nominees for NACAC president-elect and Board of Director positions. The election for the positions will be voted on during the September National Convention in Indianapolis. Overall, LDI helps MOACAC presidents communicate with other affiliates and the national organization in a personal and focused environment. LDI is just one way that NACAC supports the leadership within each affiliate. For those members considering running for a future MOACAC presidency, rest assured you will not be left to your own resources to be successful.

Susan Deppe (President-Elect), Karen Verstraete (President), Debi Hudson (NACAC Executive Committee) & Bart Tibbs (Past President) attended the July NACAC Leadership Development Institute in San Antonio.
